

Bathroom

We're in a room that you will recognize for sure... a bathroom.
There's a strange fountain in it, though... but it's really a bath tub!
There are faucets and the drain for draining out the water.

It's also a shower!
Can you see the holes
where the water came out?

Look in the curved part,
in one of the flower shapes.

Near the window, you can see a strange kind of sink. It's called a wash basin. This kind of sink usually was filled with water from the well, but this one is easier to use. It has running water, just like the sink in your house!

I'll bet you noticed that there isn't a toilet. Years ago, they didn't exist. Instead, there was a kind of a chair with a hole and a bowl in it. Everything was carefully hidden in a little room next to this one.

There are little animals in the shower. What are they?

Answer: a frog without his head - it got knocked off - and two lizards
